HARRISBURG, PENNSYLVANIA
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Company Description

EbevyYG Learning Solutions, LLC, a minority woman-owned business in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, was created in 2014 by its Executive Director, Dr. E. Beverly Young. Its formation embodies three specific concerns, the need for technical writing services chiefly to research and develop instructional content used in police and law enforcement training and finally to make knowledge transferable to policing environments. The third concern encompasses identifying practical approaches to stimulating and sustaining commitment to discussion between police and community leaders, not limited to changing opinion but inclusive of changing the relationship between the two stakeholders. The final goal is to identify practical approaches to sustain and to return legitimacy to policing within our communities, regardless of race, ethnicity, religious beliefs or socioeconomic status of residents receiving police services.

Team Staffing

Team members are independent contractors and subcontractors, diversified by experience and ethnicity, prepared to provide professional services and conduct monitoring-related travel. Specific monitoring-related activities will govern frequency of travel to Baltimore, Maryland for each team member.

Background

“The United States, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore (“City”) and the Police Department of Baltimore City (“BPD” or “the Department”), collectively the “Parties,” are committed to effective, constitutional law enforcement. The purpose of this Agreement is to ensure that the City and BPD protect individuals’ statutory and constitutional rights, treat individuals with dignity and respect, and promote public safety in a manner that is fiscally responsible and responsive to community priorities. The Parties are committed to ongoing engagement with community stakeholders to foster continued participation and long-term sustainability of the reforms created by this Agreement.”

1.0. Scope of Work

Founded in 2014, EbevyYG Learning Solutions is an independent consulting organization with specific expertise in (1) reviewing, researching and developing policies to comply with regulatory and statutory standards and (2) technical writing focused on building instructional content for police and law enforcement training. Consultants selected to work as a team have conducted program audits for quality assurance, monitored settlement agreements, developed training programs for police, created job task analyses, worked with diverse communities, engaged in community programs to improve the perception of police with area residents and served as mentors to youth.

The Learning Solutions Team is prepared to monitor implementation of each Decree provision that includes reviewing and updating policies guiding police procedures and practices, remaining accessible and transparent to all parties in reporting progress and matters temporarily delaying implementation of each Decree provision by preparing written reports, meeting periodically with members of the community to include integration of an assessment process to evaluate progress toward sustainability. Additionally, the Learning Solutions Team will:

1.1 Designate a Project Director to serve as the primary point of contact to the City of Baltimore and Department of Justice. The Project Director will also be responsible for promptly notifying the City of Baltimore and Department of Justice of any changes in management procedures and/or personnel related to the project. Provide monthly written progress reports about work completed and coordinate meetings at least once per month with City of Baltimore, City of Baltimore Police Department and Department of Justice, or more frequently upon request, to discuss project status. (See Section 3.0 for key staff members and consultants.)

1.2 Communicate with the public and receive public input, meeting monthly on a quarterly rotation in different Baltimore neighborhoods. Conduct outreach and maintain open channels of communication with BPD officers and organizations representing officers.

1.3 Maintain a public website and post a proposed budget and accounting to that website.

1.4 Develop and conduct qualitative and quantitative assessments of progress under the Consent Decree.

1.5 Provide technical assistance, issuing recommendations, soliciting information from and providing information to members of the public, and preparing public reports on the Consent Decree’s implementation.

2.0. Phases of Work

The overall agreement is for sixty (60) months or five-years with the potential for early termination after three years or thirty-six months based on performance. (See paragraph #446 of the negotiated Consent Decree.) Through assembling a sufficient cadre of professionals based on needs identified in the Request for Application and Consent Decree documents, some activities will occur simultaneously as the City of Baltimore and Baltimore City Police Department with guidance provided by the Learning Solutions Team transition through each phase of the contract toward the ultimate destination-changing perception, partnership, legitimacy and sustainability.

2.0.a METHODOLOGY

We will use a standard problem analysis/decision making model to identify our assumptions about what we expect has already or should have been done. In the pedestrian approach, we begin with a quantitative statement of the problem, what tells us/them we/they have a problem, e.g. complaints, community attitudes, etc. Then we expect Baltimore Police Department administration to define the causes, identify whom we/they can affect and define strategies and action plans, all of which must have measurable outcomes. Then they (the Baltimore Police Department) can implement, monitor, evaluate and modify.
Team Specialists will meet with representatives from each stakeholder group to obtain responses to questions using either focus group meetings, or a think aloud technique, or in-person interviews or paper/pencil questionnaires for data collection. Findings will represent aggregation of several data sources collected qualitatively for comparison to identify similarities and differences. Responses (data) will be organized using themes for analysis to report findings for discussion and follow-up. Evidence of quality will include confirmability, bracketing and reflexivity to limit contamination when reporting the findings.

2.1 Monitoring Plan Overview

(A complete monitoring plan to include a timetable for the first year, meeting provisions of Section XIX-E in the Consent Decree will be made available within 90-days of appointment and following approval by all parties, posted to the Learning Solutions website. Information written within this Application is an overview and preview.)

S-T-E-P (Stakeholder (partnership)-Training-Evaluation-Partnership)

2.1. a Phase I - Establishing Relationships - Identifying Stakeholders - Partnership

2.1. b Phase II Training

(Activities occurring in this phase include auditing courses already available for instruction by the Baltimore Police Department training staff. Monitoring Team staff will obtain the in-service training schedule for the upcoming calendar year to include location, name of instructor and certification information. Additionally, team staff will meet with Maryland Police Training Commission staff to obtain schedules for basic training classes being attended by Baltimore Police Department recruits. In instances where a team specialist identifies training needs, Baltimore Police Department staff will receive notification and the deficiency will be annotated in the Monitor’s report.)

- Supervisory Development Training
- Instructor Development
- Police Officer In-Service Training
- Academy training
- Civilian Training relating to civilian oversight of the police/law enforcement

(Team Specialists when auditing class instruction and reviewing lesson plans will be looking for the presence of varying instructional methods in the teaching-learning process deemed effective for how adults learn and transfer knowledge from the classroom to reality. Adults learn audibly, visually and kinestically; therefore, effective instruction must include opportunities for all learners to absorb instruction.)

2.1.c Phase III Evaluation

(Monitoring staff will evaluate progress and identify needs by conducting a written assessment disseminated electronically. Other assessment activities outlined for this phase will be... accomplished using qualitative approaches such as focus groups, observations, action research, or interviews.)

- Accomplishments, adult success storytelling, youth success storytelling
- Meet with Community Leaders and Police Administration
- Meet with youth (12-17)

6.0 POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

“Monitor applicants should disclose any potential or perceived conflicts of interest involving any members of the monitoring team, associated firms or organizations, and any employee(s) assigned to the project, or proposed subcontractor(s). Such conflicts may include, but are not limited to:

a. Current or former employment contracts or grants with the City of Baltimore, BPD, the State of Maryland, or the United States

c. Any close, familial, or business relationship with any of the mentioned entities
d. Any member of the monitoring team who has been the proponent or subject of any complaint, claim, or lawsuit alleging misconduct.”

Team Specialist Kimberly Shaw reports that she is related indirectly to Mayor Catherine E. Pugh through the Mayor’s brother, Ardell Crump, who is Kim’s daughter’s (Adele Crump Harris) father.

7.0 COLLABORATION AND COST EFFECTIVENESS

Candidates should also respond directly to Paragraph 27 of the RFA, and provide concrete examples as to how they plan to work collaboratively with the parties to achieve Full and Effective Compliance under the Consent Decree, and how they plan to do so in a cost-effective manner.

27. Monitor candidates shall demonstrate an ability to work collaboratively with the City, BPD, and DOJ to enable BPD to reach compliance with the Consent Decree, and the ability to do so in a cost-effective manner.

Achieving objectives is a process when undertaken collaboratively becomes a cost-effective initiative for everyone because each stakeholder becomes invested in the process and accepts responsibility for either success or creating limitations that impede final achievement. To experience fulfillment of goals designed through the Consent Decree and to help the City of Baltimore community understand the global need and importance of creating sustainability that legitimizes policing, each stakeholder must understand his or her role in the process. Understanding means knowing what it means to have and to use their voice responsibly and effectively to speak for and to believe that change is achievable.

Acknowledging that each stakeholder brings distinct needs, it is important for each stakeholder to remain active participants and to experience inclusivity during the process. The monitor and points of contact from within the Learning Solutions Team infrastructure will work collaboratively using a consensus-oriented decision-making model to achieve the goal, sustainable procedural justice, and companion objectives, to be able to identify and to define what sustainability looks like. A consensus-oriented decision-making approach is a seven-step process.

Step 1  Identifying the topic
Step 2  Open discussion
Step 3  What are the underlying concerns?
Step 4  Stakeholder collaboration to build a proposal for attacking the issue
Step 5  Deciding the direction
Step 6  Synthesizing a final proposal
Step 7  Closure

(See diagram of proposed consensus-oriented decision-making model found in Appendix C)

To help participants experience inclusion and hence more willingness to remain actively involved, participants must speak to be heard. The Quaker model of decision making encourages each participant to speak once. Once that participant has spoken, he or she cannot speak again until all other participants have spoken. This minimizes domination of the conversation or excluding expression of every viewpoint. Additionally, being encouraged to give input also requires participants to prepare before the meeting so that his or her comments to the group offer either new insight into an issue or specific reason using evidence to explain the need to consider an alternative direction.

The first several meetings with City of Baltimore stakeholders, the Monitor will combine features of the Quaker Model with beginning stages of the consensus decision-making model. Stakeholders adhere to the same guidelines through each stage, every participant gives input. Minutes will be recorded and attendance will be taken at each meeting.

After the monitoring team and City of Baltimore stakeholders identify a plan of action, subsequent meetings will follow an agenda presenting progress reports and identifying needs from each stakeholder and the monitor.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I have been in law enforcement for over twenty-seven years and have gained a significant amount of knowledge in all areas of the criminal justice system and in the leadership of others. As a police officer in a high crime area I was able to make a positive difference in the lives of the residents of the City of Philadelphia. I have made numerous arrests for narcotics and violent crimes, in addition to being one of the original bike patrol officers assigned to the Community Policing “Weed & Seed Project.” I worked closely with community residents, business leaders and government officials in addressing crime and quality of life issues focusing on Community Policing, Community Involvement & Interaction, Community Surveys, Community Meetings and Problem Solving Skills. Our program was highly successful and was recognized by then United States Attorney General, Janet Reno.

I was promoted to sergeant within five years of joining the police department, and have constantly supervised 10-15 officers daily for nine years. During that time, I directly worked for the Commanding Officer in Community Outreach and Organizing. In that position, I attended numerous meetings with business leaders, school officials, community grass root organizations, civic groups, volunteers, and community residents. During that time, we were able to have constant open lines of communications with all the stakeholders within our community, and we worked together to create a better relationship of understanding and cooperation.

I was eventually transferred to the Philadelphia Police Academy and I was immediately placed as section head for all Patrol Classes taught at the academy. I am Conflict Resolution Certified and certified by the Crisis Prevention Institute in Non-violent Crisis Intervention. I use my experience and knowledge to tutor recruits in academics, defensive tactics and physical fitness. I have become a developer and administrator of new curriculum for recruits and in service personnel. As a patrol and defensive tactics expert I have become a lead representative for the Philadelphia Police Department in testifying at the local and federal level for litigation concerning “Use of Force” and “Officer Tactics” issues. While being an active member of the Police Academy, I achieved my B.S. & M.S. in Organizational and Strategic Leadership from Mountain State University.

While assigned to the Philadelphia Police Training Bureau, I have been responsible for the development of the Philadelphia Police Department’s Defensive Tactics Manual, Police Bike Training Manual & Lesson Plan and created our Defusing and De-Escalation class. I have also been active in the Instructor Development Course and the Instructor Refresher Course.
Rosemont College selected me as Professor of the Year in 2015 for my work in the Criminal Justice Program and in volunteering and working with my students to help them succeed. In that capacity, I developed and taught a Use of Force in Law Enforcement class and have been requested to teach Multiculturalism and the Criminal Justice System class. Both classes are designed to teach cultural awareness and the differences in communication skills needed to effectively police various communities.

I have the ability and expertise to work with any organization to review current policies and procedures to determine a specific training program to fit the needs of the organization. Once the training program is developed, I also have the expert ability to teach the classes or train others in effectively delivering the material to a targeted audience of law enforcement or civilian personnel.
