Dear Mr. Cheema:

The Robert Bobb Group (RBG) respectfully submits this application to be the monitor for the consent decree entered into by the U.S. Department of Justice, the City of Baltimore, and the Police Department of the City of Baltimore (BPD). We are uniquely situated to monitor this consent decree and assist the City and the BPD in instituting procedures and protocols that safeguard the constitutional rights of the citizens of Baltimore and build vital bonds of trust between BPD officers and the members of the community they serve.

In collaboration with the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights Under Law (“Lawyers’ Committee”) we have convened a team whose experience and expertise makes us exceptionally able to review and recommend policies and procedures to ensure that they promote public safety while improving accountability and professionalism within the ranks of BPD. The judicial and law enforcement officials on our team have, collectively, nearly a century of proven experience between them, with training and experience at both federal and local levels of government. They are change makers who have pioneered reform in their respective agencies and models of professional excellence.

Our Engagement Executive is Robert C. Bobb, who helped pioneer the concept of community policing as a member of the Harvard Kennedy School of Government’s Executive Sessions on Policing from 1985 to 1991. His executive management skills have garnered national renown. On multiple occasions, he has been entrusted with the delicate and difficult duty of turning around local government institutions in crisis. His familiarity with city budgeting and cost-effective reform make him well able to promote meaningful change under tough financial constraints.

Former United States District Court Judge Shira Scheindlin, whose expansive knowledge of constitutional law makes her an asset in this endeavor, will support Mr. Bobb. In her judicial position, she considered and decided the case that ended the unconstitutional practice of “stop and frisk” policing in New York City, making her an exceptional candidate to review existing and recommend new policies and procedures that promote the spirit and intent of the Consent Decree negotiated by the parties.

Joining Mr. Bobb and Judge Scheindlin as the principal leads of the monitoring team is James B. Golden, Jr. Mr. Golden was the first Police Director for the city of Trenton, New Jersey, where he set a new strategic direction for community-based policing, and worked in partnership with citizens to reduce the fear and incidence of crime.
In support of their leadership, the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights Under Law will offer its unrivaled expertise in capacity building within minority and underserved communities, as well the experiences of two former federal civil rights prosecutors whose experience investigating police-training protocols and policing activity for consistency with the protections guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment is shared by only a select few individuals.

The Lawyers’ Committee is perfectly situated to convene this team of experts to monitor the Consent Decree with RBG at the helm to provide technical assistance to BPD, the City, and the citizens of Baltimore that will promote the goals and requirements of the Consent Decree. Our work will empower citizens and officers alike to hold BPD accountable for building and maintaining an organization that holds public safety and public service in equal regard.

Combined with this cache of expertise is deep experience in effective project management, and community policing and organizing, we will robustly enforce and promote the provisions of the Consent Decree and help Baltimore turn the corner and usher in a new era of constitutional, community-oriented policing.

The key elements that differentiate the RBG team from competing organizations are:

Deep experience serving minority and underserved communities – Your RBG team has a long history of working in urban communities and serving underserved populations, whether through local government or local school districts. It has been particularly effective in confronting the inequities facing African Americans and other racial and ethnic minorities.

An informed approach – Your RBG team embraces innovation—in how we work and in the processes we recommend for achieving transparency, compliance, and change. We understand budgets and how to manage large-scale projects. We work with integrity, and we respect the goals of our clients. With a deep knowledge of change management, our work advances sustainable changes that produce robust, measurable results.

Ready to begin delivering on Day One – The RBG has robust local and regional resources that can contribute to the engagement, ensuring that that our team can respond swiftly and efficiently with a high level of expertise and knowledge of Baltimore on the first day of the engagement.

Through its many projects and beyond them, the RBG is engaged in critical matters such as economic and environmental justice, international and domestic human rights, immigrant rights, racial profiling and law enforcement disparities. Our team is exceptionally qualified to serve in the monitoring role and to rebuild the vital bonds of trust between BPD officers and the members of the Baltimore community.

Thank you for this opportunity to serve.

1.0 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This proposal is submitted by The Robert Bobb Group (RBG) to serve as the Monitor of the Consent Decree regarding the Police Department of Baltimore City (BPD), entered as a court-enforceable order by the Court on April 7, 2017, and agreed to between the United States, the Mayor, and City Council of Baltimore (City), as well as the BPD (collectively “the Parties”).

The Consent Decree calls for the appointment of a Monitor. The Monitor is charged with providing the BDP with technical assistance in meeting the requirements of the Consent Decree, to report to the Court, the City, and U.S. Department of Justice, and to the Baltimore community on the progress of the BPD in achieving compliance, and to certify in the future whether BPD has reached “full and effective compliance” with the Consent Decree.

The RBG will serve as the convener of a monitoring team comprised of individuals with expertise in executive management, policing, civil rights, program monitoring, data analysis, project management, and related areas, as well as local experience and expertise with the diverse communities of Baltimore, that will oversee the implementation of the Consent Decree designed to ensure lawful and effective policing in Baltimore.

Robert C. Bobb, Owner, President and CEO of The Robert Bobb Group, LLC (RBG), will lead the Team. Mr. Bobb has more than 40 years of executive management experience in both the private and public sectors. From 1985 to 1991, Mr. Bobb served as member of the Executive Session on Policing, jointly sponsored by the National Institute of Justice and the Harvard Kennedy School of Government. That seven-year session is widely held as having had the greatest impact on the field of policing and members included the U.S. Attorney General, the head of Scotland Yard, and police chiefs and mayors of several cities. The products of that Executive Session—a series of seventeen papers called Perspectives on Policing—became essential reading in thousands of departments and executive offices across the country and are regarded by many as the foundational documents of community policing.

Mr. Bobb has worked with law enforcement agencies to address a host of issues, including use of force, civilian complaints, internal investigations, and reviews of incidents. Mr. Bobb has also served on the Virginia State Crime Commission, the Virginia Commission on Parole Abolition and Sentencing Reform, the Virginia Criminal Sentencing Commission and the Board of Visitors of the Virginia Military Institute.

Through RBG, his private/public sector consulting firm, Mr. Bobb specializes in Public and Private Sector Turnaround Consulting and Advisory Services; Financial and Organizational Restructuring; Budget Management Services; Labor Relations; Public Safety and Policing, and contract negotiations. Throughout his career, Mr. Bobb has helped governments, schools and businesses find financial and operational solutions, greater efficiency and long-term viability. He is uniquely able to evaluate organizational change and institutional reform through analyses of progress, performance and outcomes. Mr. Bobb is an expert on the issues facing urban governments, including community and neighborhood development, municipal budgeting and finances, cultivating public/private partnerships and public safety. For example:
• Appointed by former Michigan Gov. Jennifer Granholm, Mr. Bobb served as Emergency Financial Manager of the 87,000-student Detroit Public Schools (DPS) from March 2009 through May 2011. DPS was a school district in crisis due to decades of mismanagement and corruption. As Financial Manager, Bobb immediately assembled a team of national turnaround experts to address the district’s legacy deficit and develop a Master Education Plan for 21st Century Teaching and Learning.

• Appointed by former Washington, D.C., Mayor Anthony Williams, Mr. Bobb is the former City Administrator and Deputy Mayor for Washington, D.C. and served as the District of Columbia’s Homeland Security Advisor. He managed a workforce of approximately 20,000 employees and an annual budget of $8 billion dollars.

• Mr. Bobb served as the City Manager of Oakland California and Executive Director of the Oakland Redevelopment Agency; City Manager of Richmond, Virginia; City Manager of Santa Ana, California; and City Manager of Kalamazoo, Michigan. Mr. Bobb holds the distinction of having served on a continuous basis as the longest tenured African-American City Manager/City Administrator in the Nation.

Former United States District Court Judge Shira A. Scheindlin will assist in leading the Team. Judge Scheindlin presided over numerous criminal and civil cases during her 22-year tenure with the Southern District of New York, and previously served as an Assistant United States Attorney for the Eastern District of New York, a Magistrate Judge in the Eastern District of New York and General Counsel for the New York City Department of Investigation.

Judge Scheindlin has authored an article on race and policing and another article on that subject is forthcoming. Most importantly, as the Judge who handled the case of Floyd v. City of New York, which ended the unconstitutional practice of stop and frisk as practiced by the New York City Police Department (“NYPD”), she issued a remedial order that has been in effect for the last three years, including the appointment of a monitor and a facilitator and setting guidelines for reform of the NYPD. Her remedial order paid particular attention to training, monitoring and supervision of NYPD officers.

The third member of this monitoring leadership team is James B. Golden, Jr. Mr. Golden was the first Police Director for the city of Trenton, New Jersey, where he set a new strategic direction for community-based policing, and worked in partnership with citizens to reduce the fear and incidence of crime.

Mr. Golden re-engineered the department in a way that enabled police officers and citizens to identify and solve problems at the neighborhood level. This strategy led to a significant reduction in serious crime throughout the city of Trenton. Mr. Golden is currently a partner of the ADG Law Enforcement Training Group, LLP, and provides advice to communities and police departments seeking to build trust and strengthen the relationship between police officers and the citizens they are sworn to serve and protect. He is also a training consultant for Strategies for Youth, an organization focused on improving police/youth interactions, advancing the cause of training public safety officers in the science of child and youth development and mental health, and supporting communities partnering to promote strong police/youth relationships.

In addition to his civilian service in Trenton, Mr. Golden has nearly 40 years of professional law enforcement experience. For example:

- In 2002, Mr. Golden was appointed to serve as the first Federal Security Director at Philadelphia International Airport by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. Mr. Golden assembled and led a staff of more than 800 employees, and was directly responsible for a full range of federal aviation security, including passenger and baggage screening, regulatory compliance, and law enforcement.

- In 2005, he was appointed to the School District of Philadelphia as Chief Safety Executive. He led a staff of more than 700 employees responsible for creating and sustaining a safe learning environment for 200,000 students and staff. He retired from the School District in November 2010.

- Mr. Golden is a life member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and a Past President of the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE).

Led by Mr. Bobb, Judge Scheindlin and Mr. Golden, the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights Under Law (Lawyers’ Committee) will play a support role, bringing unparalleled experience, effectiveness, and efficiency to the critically important task of developing, in consultation with the Parties, a set of reforms for BPD’s policies, training, supervision, auditing, and handling of complaints and discipline.

Though the Court will no doubt review proposals from numerous consulting firms, none will be able to match the unique expertise and broad-based knowledge of the team convened by the RBG. Moreover, the team is committed to working closely with BPD, the City, and the citizens they serve to establish a culture of policing that is grounded in constitutional policing principles and professional excellence.

As a result, the team will be best able to evaluate BPD’s and the City’s implementation of the Consent Decree and ensure that BPD’s policies and practices prevent conduct that violates the Constitution and federal law, including: (1) making unconstitutional stops, searches, and arrests; (2) using enforcement strategies that produce severe and unjustified disparities in the rates of stops, searches and arrests of African Americans; (3) using excessive force; and (4) retaliating against people engaging in constitutionally-protected expression.
2.0 SCOPe OF WORK

To promote sustainable, constitutional, and effective policing and ensure that BPD delivers services in a manner that respects the rights of residents, increases trust between officers and the communities they serve, and promotes public and officer safety, the team will:

RFA - Paragraph 8: Conduct regular reviews, audits, and assessments to determine whether BPD and the City have obtained Full and Effective Compliance with the Material Requirements of the Consent Decree. These include reviewing BPD policies, observing training, meeting with police executives and rank and file, and examining BPD records and data. The team will also meet regularly with the parties and the Community Oversight Task Force, as established by the Consent Decree.

RFA - Paragraphs 9, 15 and 16: Assist in achieving compliance with the Consent Decree by offering technical assistance and recommendations for developing policies and procedures that govern BPD interactions with civilians and all uses of force, and will provide the Court and the Parties with biannual reports evaluating BPD and the City’s implementation of the Consent Decree.

RFA - Paragraphs 10, 15 and 16: Work closely with BPD and its staff, in a cost-effective and fully collaborative manner, to ensure that BPD’s policies and practices prohibit conduct that violates the Constitution and federal law, including: (1) making unconstitutional stops, searches, and arrests; (2) using enforcement strategies that produce severe and unjustified disparities in the rates of stops, searches and arrests of African Americans; (3) using excessive force; and (4) retaliating against people engaging in constitutionally-protected expression.

RFA - Paragraphs 11-13 and 15-17: Assist BPD and the City in realizing the objectives of Paragraph 443-488 of the Consent Decree and will submit Monitoring Plan that establishes the following duties and responsibilities for the team:

- Conduct Compliance Reviews, as specified in Paragraph 454 of the Consent Decree, to determine compliance with the Material Requirements of the Consent Decree.
- Conduct Outcome Assessments, as specified in Paragraphs 456-460 of the Consent Decree, to measure whether BPD’s revised practices and procedures are achieving the purposes of this Agreement and are having an overall beneficial effect on policing in Baltimore. Specifically, these outcome measures will assess the development and implementation of policies and procedures which:
  - Reflect the philosophy that fighting crime and protecting civilians’ Constitutional rights are equally important to BPD’s mission.
  - Promote a culture of professionalism, performance and accountability within BPD’s command structure.
  - Ensure that all BPD initiated stops, searches and arrests of civilians are conducted in a manner consistent with the Constitution, statutory authority and current legal standards; including standard procedures for collecting and retaining data on all uses of force, traffic and pedestrian stops, searches, and arrests and maintaining it in a manner that can be analyzed regularly, through written reports and otherwise, to identify trends and issues that may lead to violations of law or policy.

- Include clear prohibitions of conduct that reflects or promotes implicit bias in policing, and outline procedures which ensure that officers do not improperly use race, gender, ethnicity, national origin, or sexual orientation as a factor in enforcement decisions; including standards for levels and types of supervision and support for personnel in the field and an accountability system for identification and control of police misconduct and civil rights violations.

- Mandate training on use of force that provides officers and supervisors with clear guidance on when force is appropriate in accordance with legal and constitutional policing, and which incentivize officers to use community policing and problem-solving techniques, including de-escalation and conflict resolution strategies, to decrease the need for officers to resort to force.

- Prohibit retaliation against individuals for exercising their First Amendment rights and ensure timely investigation and discipline of officers who retaliate against citizens for exercising their First Amendment rights.

- Ensure that law enforcement actions do not reflect explicit or implicit gender bias, including in cases involving reports of sexual assault or coercion of sexual acts by BPD officers, and ensure that all officers responsible for responding to and investigating sexual assault are provided with specialized training about sexual assault, including legal and constitutional standards for responding to and investigating reports of sexual assault, interviewing victims of sexual assault, and investigating reports of sexual assault or coercion of sexual acts by BPD officers.

- Establish and maintain a well-publicized and easily accessible complaint reporting system that allows civilians and officers to report claims of inappropriate law enforcement conduct.

- Establish and maintain a system that ensures appropriate discipline for officers who use excessive force or discriminatory policy practices, officers who observe such illegal actions but fail to report them, and supervisors who fail in their duty to detect and report such misconduct.

- Provide the parties with the underlying analysis, data, methods, and source of the information relied upon in the Compliance Reviews and Outcome Assessments and ensure that the Reviews and Assessments are conducted in a reliable manner based on accepted and trustworthy means and methods and in conformity with statistical techniques that are accepted in the relevant field.

RFA Paragraphs 14, 18, and 20-22: The team proposes to work collaboratively with the parties, the Community Oversight Task Force and others—e.g., advocacy groups, community members, police unions and individual officers—who have a stake in the successful implementation of these reforms and in building trust between BPD officers and the communities they serve. To ensure and promote transparency within this work, the team will develop and maintain a public website where it will publish its recommendations, reports, budget and accounting.
RFA Paragraph 19: In years 2 and 4 of the Consent Decree, the team shall conduct and submit a comprehensive re-assessment of BPD policies, procedures and practices to ensure compliance with and successful implementation of the Consent Decree.

RFA Paragraph 23 and 24: The team’s statements and testimony concerning the Consent Decree shall be limited to activities proposed by the Monitoring Plan and/or specifically authorized by the Court. At all times, the team shall maintain the highest ethical standards in order to ensure legitimacy and public trust of the Consent Decree process.

3.0 PERSONNEL, QUALIFICATIONS, EXPERIENCE, AND TIME COMMITMENTS

As described above, the team’s principal leads carry substantial expertise in evaluating agency performance, assessing legal sufficiency and compliance, and law enforcement practices. The team’s full complement of experts, including law enforcement leaders, lawyers, data analysts, and community organizing specialists, possesses the experience and knowledge necessary to monitor the Consent Decree and assist the City and BPD in establishing a policing culture that values civil rights and sound accountability measures that protect and promote constitutional policing. Criminal Investigation Division, where she investigated burglaries and sex offenses. She is the only woman in BPD’s history to test for and be promoted to the rank of captain under the civil service system. As a captain, she started BPD’s first domestic violence unit and upon her promotion to colonel, and she created domestic violence units in each policing district, mandated reporting for all domestic violence calls for service, and played an instrumental role in creating a statewide model domestic violence policy. She was able to successfully navigate a “pattern and practices” investigation by the U.S. Department of Justice and avoid the need for a consent decree while maintaining the confidence of police officers, citizens and city leadership. As a result, she is in a unique position to provide advice and counsel about implementing organizational restructuring, team building, and staff development, while also being specifically attentive to fiscal conservatism, new and evolving crime trends, and building and strengthening community-police partnerships. At the White House, she helped to coordinate and staff the White House’s Review of Federal Support for Local Law Enforcement Equipment Acquisition, a precursor to development of the President’s Task Force on 21st Century Policing. Braden has reviewed policies, procedures manuals and administrative orders concerning police officer training, law enforcement agency policies and procedures, and unlawful stops.

Diane Glauber is Co-Director, of the Lawyer’s Committee’s Fair Housing & Community Development Project. Prior to joining the Lawyers’ Committee, Glauber served as director of Human Services for the City of Baltimore, where she oversaw programs designed to provide housing and services to Baltimore’s most vulnerable populations.

Karen Miller is the Deputy Director and Chief Development Officer at the Lawyers’ Committee for Civil Rights Under Law. Prior to joining the Lawyers’ Committee, Miller served for nearly two decades at various levels of Baltimore city government ranging from the Public Relations and Marketing Director for the Mayor’s office to the Budget and Human Resources Director for the Department of Planning. She is intimately familiar with community concerns and needs deeply knowledgeable about the community’s character and its major stakeholders.

The Lawyers’ Committee will provide support and convening staffing for the team. The Lawyers’ Committee is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization, formed in 1963 at the request of President John F. Kennedy, to enlist the private bar’s leadership and resources in combating racial discrimination and the resulting inequality of opportunity—work that continues to be vital today.

Its principal mission is to secure equal justice for all through the rule of law by engaging in impact litigation, public education, programming, and policy advocacy. We maintain the largest pro bono civil rights network in the Nation and we are uniquely situated to support the team as it serves as Monitor for the Consent Decree. Maintaining partnerships with more than 200 law firms and 150 grassroots organizations across the nation, we leverage our partnerships to innovatively address both new and systemic barriers to equality, justice and opportunity or all.

Through the operation of its various projects and initiatives, the Lawyers’ Committee houses the type of institutional knowledge and expertise that is critical to successful implementation of the Consent Decree. For example, our experience engaging effectively with diverse community stakeholders to promote civic participation, strategic partnerships and community policing is unrivaled.

As convener of the Civil Rights Coalition on Police Reform, which includes more than two dozen national civil and human rights organizations, we engage in public policy development and advocacy to reform policing, while ensuring necessary accountability and creating better, more sustainable relationships between the community and police.

At the height of national protests against police misconduct and calls for reform, the Lawyers’ Committee launched the Know Your Rights Initiative, a formalized partnership with the National Bar Association, which mobilizes members of the private bar to serve as legal observers and provide individual-level representation for peaceful protestors who are detained or arrested during mass demonstrations.

Additionally, its Stop Hate Project employs a team of attorneys and organizers who reach out to community leaders, local government leaders, and law enforcement to help communities work together to more effectively prevent and respond to hate crimes and hate incidents. This includes strategic partnerships with community organizations representing LGBT, Muslim, Jewish, immigrant, African American, and other communities, as well as with police leadership organizations.

The Lawyers’ Committee also has a history of work and experience within Baltimore’s diverse communities and the issues affecting those communities. For example, our Fair Housing and Community Development Project represented the South Baltimore Six (SB6) Coalition, an organization that represents the South Baltimore communities of Brooklyn, Cherry Hill, Curtis Bay, Lakeland, Mt. Winans and Westport, in the negotiation of a historic Community Benefits Agreement with Sagamore Development that will provide tens of millions of dollars and technical assistance to communities that will be impacted by the Port Covington Project. The Lawyers’ Committee and it pro bono partners also represent the plaintiffs in The Coalition for Equity and Excellence in Maryland Higher Education v. Maryland Higher Education Commission, a case that alleges that Maryland has failed to dismantle the vestiges of segregation from its prior de jure system of higher education. Plaintiffs include prospective students, current students, and alumni of the state’s Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), including Baltimore’s own Morgan State University and Coppin State University.

Together, the Team convened and staffed by the Lawyers’ Committee will be well able to assist the Court and the Parties as an independent monitor and resource for technical assistance to ensure the successful implementation of the Consent Decree.

The members of the team bring with them a combination of varying work commitments, from full-time employees of the RBG, to independent consultants with flexible schedules, and retirees capable of setting any schedule. While some of us have more extensive time commitments, all will budget our time wisely so as to create the most productive, efficient and effective use of our time and resources. The vast majority of the Team’s members live and work within an easy commute to each other and within an hour of Baltimore, which will provide a substantial savings of time and costs. Moreover, as experienced executive managers, legal and development professionals, we are particularly adept at completing projects within anticipated deadlines and budgets.

4.0 COLLABORATION AND COST EFFECTIVENESS

The RBG team understands that the development and implementation of police department reform helps rebuild trust between a community and its police, and ensures appropriate accountability and transparency. The team further recognizes that BPD officers and employees are BPD’s greatest resource and that the vast majority of officers are committed to upholding the Constitution with honor and distinction while carrying out their important duties to ensure public safety. The team recognizes that the process of reform is complex and requires continued sustained effort.

The team commits to work collaboratively, earnestly, and with necessary urgency to ensure compliance with the Consent Decree and to ensure that the Parties achieve their mutual goal of sustainable reform. The team also commits to implementing the Monitoring Plan in a cost-effective manner.

The RBG team’s management approach is designed to enhance efforts to effectively plan, manage, and execute monitoring projects. The management approach includes mechanisms that facilitate efforts to further effective governance, optimize engagements, and strengthen communication. The team’s management approach delivers a repeatable set of rules that enforce effectiveness and accountability. As Figure 2 illustrates, the team management approach offers an integrated set of practices designed to keep the project on track and deliver the intended outcomes and benefits on time, within budget, and compliant with all of the requirements articulated by the client.

Our team’s approach is to respect the history of the project and to foster a deeper understanding, transparency, and candor. The RBG team would carefully listen to the City and BPD perspectives before evaluating and prudently tailoring strategies that take into consideration current internal and external dynamics. Our assessments of challenges and opportunities are efficient and astute. They are delivered in a manner that can be owned by both management and staff.

The RBG team has a history of working effectively with local government leaders as they contemplate transformational activities. Savvy leadership and a commitment to employing the most effective methods and processes must drive organizational change, and the RBG team is exceptionally skilled at monitoring local activities on behalf of the citizens of Baltimore.

Our dedicated team of specialists is ready to participate in real-time discussions with the City, BPD, and the DOJ regarding our approach. Multiple team members have public sector experience and have keen understandings of how to monitor Consent Decrees.
Investment in Regular Outcome-Focused Communications
Too often, communication becomes a compliance concern where reports are provided but there is no meaningful impact on project success. There is simply too much at stake and issues are too complex to not invest in open and regular communication and engagement. The team’s communication approach is designed to promote effective and continued engagement with the client. We will communicate on a weekly basis with the BPD and the City and make real-time adjustments to address needs. The team will have access to the contact information for the Engagement Executive so the team can address issues that require immediate attention or support. Sustained two-way communication will enhance the focus, success, and impact of each task order and the project as a whole.

Quality on Cost Optimization Efforts Achieves Results
The RBG’s goal is not merely to produce work products within the specified time frame, but also to deliver value that extends beyond the life of a specific task and produces a positive impact. The team’s Quality Management professionals (QMPs) are focused on full contractual compliance. They deliver a relentless commitment to continuous improvement and provide the support and outcomes clients require effectively preparing, initiating, and managing their efforts. On an ongoing basis, the team evaluates the effectiveness of its efforts in relation to the broader objectives of the project and specific tasks, identifying opportunities to enhance the value and impact its team delivers.

Not only does the team and its internal and external consulting members have extensive past experience undertaking Consent Decree and law enforcement engagements, they have also distinguished themselves by their sound and innovative approach to complex engagements and activities.

PROJECT MANAGEMENT APPROACH

The management of a project of this size and scope requires a laser-focused approach in order to provide the best possible outcome for the citizens of Baltimore. The RBG team believes the source of any project’s success lies in critical early-stage planning and management. By using this approach to project management, the team is able to meet milestones and present deliverables in a timely and efficient manner.

Project Planning
The value of project management processes is evidenced by the fact that projects executed with proper planning and methodologies are most often successful. A systematic approach toward completing a project is essential for achieving good results.

The first stage of the team project management process includes: establishing a schedule for monitoring and milestones; detailing budgeting requirements; arranging project resources; analyzing manpower requirements; and setting up tools to mitigate risks. During this stage, the team is advised of its roles and responsibilities for the proposal cycle.
Project Management Office

The next stage of the project-planning process establishes an onsite Project Management Office (PMO) in Baltimore to centralize and coordinate these efforts. The PMO will be the chief location for weekly briefings and the venue where the consulting staff will work to resolve pertinent issues, explore and define opportunities for organizational efficiencies, and track project performance.

The PMO is at the heart of effective communication and coordination. It serves as the point for disseminating project findings and responding to all issues arising during the course of the proposed engagement.

The RBG Project Executives, who coordinate the work of the entire team and warrant that deliverables come in on time and on budget, will be available at the PMO for a certain percentage of their time. The PMO is the headquarters for ensuring that the team meets the requirements of the organizational efficiency study, expectations are affirmed, and schedules are confirmed.

An integral duty during this stage of the process is the creation of key tools to communicate the daily and landmark activities of the contracting team, as well as its progress. The team will employ Microsoft Project Management tools to task and track project activities. The team will set up a Dropbox account as a central repository for document storage. Dropbox will be available to all onsite personnel and the BPD’s Project Manager.

Additionally, the team’s communications/document/database management staff consultant will be located in the PMO office to sustain communication with BPD’s Project Manager, a critical factor in the success of this proposed project.

Project Execution

Once all the planning is completed, the next stage in the monitoring project life cycle is execution, wherein the deliverables are actually realized. This stage involves coordination of people and utilization of resources to achieve the targets established in the monitoring plan. The Project Executives determine whether methodologies are working and, if not, how to correct course to ensure the team meets established milestones.

The project execution stage includes:
- Management of daily project activities
- Performance of assigned tasks as per the project plan
- Achievement of milestones and deliverables
- Monitoring of performance of project staff
- Maintenance of communication with the BDP and City project managers

Community Engagement
The team recognizes the key role of community engagement in accomplishing the task at hand, and it believes the best way to achieve its mission would be to develop a communications strategy that includes a Steering Committee and dashboard website that reflects the work the monitoring team.

The RBG team will create a Steering Committee made up of key stakeholders to provide oversight and guidance to the monitoring effort. The Steering Committee will include people with substantial law enforcement experience, as well as have deep ties to the City of Baltimore’s many communities and neighborhoods.

On the website, the monitoring team would provide updates on the latest news and progress related to the Consent Decree. The website would house archives of the Monitor's reports, recommendations to the Court, key BPD policies, and the like. It also would provide members of the Baltimore community with information on becoming involved with the process of implementing the Consent Decree.

Prospective additional government (City and Federal) engagement activities include:

- Create and share a monitoring plan during the initial phase of the engagement to set short-term and long-term goals
- Provide weekly updates through written and oral communications to City, BPD, and DOJ state contacts about the status of the monitoring
- Release quarterly reports tracking achievements and opportunities during the engagement
- On an annual basis, host a forum to discuss challenges and successes
- Measure and analyze improvements and provide a dashboard for government officials through the website

Program management strategy

The RBG team’s management approach is designed to enhance efforts to effectively plan, manage, and execute change management operations and projects. Our approach delivers a repeatable set of best practices that enforce visibility and accountability, including mechanisms to promote effective governance, increase efficiency of engagements, and strengthen communication.

Our management approach offers an integrated set of practices designed to keep the project on track and deliver the intended outcomes and benefits on time, within budget, and compliant with all of the requirements articulated by you, our client. Our plan is designed to:

- Apply leading best practices consistent with project requirements
- Manage project scope, schedule, and cost, effectively and efficiently
- Use communications and risk management practices that promote project success
- Focus supporting processes on enhancing quality and achieving project objectives
- Transfer knowledge, and create operational capability and value.

Investment in regular outcome-focused communications

Too often, transferring information becomes a compliance concern where strategies and plans are provided, but there is no meaningful impact on monitoring success. There is simply too much at stake, and issues are too complex, not to invest in open and regular conversation. Sustained two-way contact will enhance the focus, success, and impact of each task order, and the project as a whole. Our approach to correspondence is designed to promote effective and continued engagement with you.

The team will connect with BPD and the City on a daily basis and is ready to make real-time adjustments to address your needs. BPD and the City will be provided with access to the contact information for the monitoring project manager and other team members to address issues as they arise and provide immediate support. Meetings involving team members will be documented and distributed to participants in accordance with proper project management principles.
A centralized web-based repository will be setup and maintained by the PMO to house project documentation, meeting minutes, reports, and formal correspondence.

Quality achieves results
The RBG team’s goal is not merely to produce deliverables on time, but also to deliver value and positive impacts that extend beyond the life of the engagement. The team’s Quality Management Lead is focused on full contractual compliance. We are committed to continuous improvement and providing the support and outcomes you require by effectively preparing, initiating, and managing their efforts.

On an ongoing basis, the team evaluates the effectiveness of its efforts in relation to the broader objectives of the project and specific tasks, identifying opportunities to enhance the value and impact our team delivers.

As a partner for this engagement, the team would begin by laying a foundation of mutual understanding with BPD and the City. Our experience has shown us that success hinges on a clear understanding of your objectives and expectations. To achieve this goal, we utilize diverse techniques that have been exceptionally successful in a variety of engagements, including both private and public appointments, including the following.

5.0 POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The RBG leadership team does not have any conflicts of interest related to the City, the BPD, or the Justice Department.

Mr. Golden is currently working with Strategies for Youth on a grant awarded by the State of Maryland to develop and implement a customized program to assess police/youth interactions in the City of Baltimore and develop a training curriculum for BPD using the “Policing the Teen Brain” course. If the Team is selected to monitor the Consent Decree Mr. Golden will withdraw from this work.

As part of the Lawyers’ Committee’s work to attack racial discrimination and promote racial justice, it engages in litigation. Sometimes the United States is a party to the litigation (both cases where the United States is on the same side of the litigation or on the opposing side), including cases where the lawyers from the Civil Rights Division represent the United States. The Lawyers’ Committee has not sued the Civil Rights Division in recent years, if ever. The cases it has been involved with where the United States was involved are:

- Coalition for Equity and Excellence in Maryland Higher Education v. Maryland Higher Education Commission: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because neither the City of Baltimore, its Police Department, or the United States are parties to the case. (Coal. for Equity & Excellence in Maryland Higher Educ. v. Maryland Higher Educ. Comm'n, 977 F. Supp. 2d 507, 511 (D. Md. 2013)).

- Veasey v. Abbott: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (Veasey v. Abbott, 830 F.3d 216 (5th Cir. 2016), cert. denied, 137 S. Ct. 612 (2017)).
• Shelby County, Alabama, v. Eric H. Holder: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (Shelby County, Alabama v. Holder, 43 F. Supp. 3d 47 (D.D.C. 2014)).

• Northwest Austin Municipal Utility District Number One v. Eric H. Holder: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (Nw. Austin Mun. Util. Dist. No. One v. Holder, 129 S. Ct. 2504 (2009)).

• Gonzalez v. Pritzker: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the officers of the Census Bureau were the defendants in this case, and they have no involvement in this case or matter. (Gonzalez et al v. Pritzker, S.D.N.Y., No. 1:10-cv-03105, settlement approved 9/20/16).

• Common Cause New York et al. v. Board of Elections in the City of New York et al.: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (Common Cause New York et al v. Bd. of Elections in the City of New York et al., E.D.N.Y., No. 16-06122 (2017)).

• State of South Carolina v. Eric H. Holder: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (South Carolina v. Holder, D.D.C., No. 12-203 (2012)).

• State of Georgia v. Eric H. Holder: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (Georgia v. Holder, 748 F. Supp. 2d 16 (D.D.C. 2010)).

• Florida v. United States: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the Lawyers’ Committee and the United States are not in opposition. (Florida v. U.S., 820 F.Supp.2d 85 (2011)).

• League of Women Voters v. Newby: No United States agency involved in this case would be involved in the consent decree. The defendants – the EAC and its officers – have no relationship to this consent agreement. (League of Women Voters of United States v. Newby, 838 F.3d 1 (D.C. Cir. 2016)).

• Pars v. Trump: It is our belief that this case does not bar our selection because the government agents who are defendants in the case will have no involvement in this case or matter. (Pars v. Trump, D.D.C., No. 17-cv-00255 (2017)).

6.0 BUDGET ESTIMATE

The RBG’s ability to leverage its assets as well as the pro bono assets of the Lawyers’ Committee creates a unique value for our services. (For example, although the Lawyers’ Committee’s 2016 budget was valued at $8 million dollars, the value of the pro bono in support of its work was more than $38 million dollars.) For work done by all members of the RBG team, we propose an hourly fee arrangement and payment of direct costs, including travel, technology, and publication expenses, capped at $1.475 million per year.

Consent Decree Five-Year Project Budget Model

The following tables provide our annual budget for five (5) years. The first three (3) months of the project includes an anticipated staff ramp up, and then a steady state budget for the project duration. The

James B. Golden, Jr. is a partner of the ADG Law Enforcement Training Group, LLP.

ADG offers a range of management consulting services to communities and police departments seeking to build trust and strengthen the relationship between police officers and the citizens they are sworn to serve and protect. With more than 100 years of police executive and leadership experience, the partners of ADG are uniquely qualified to assist communities across the country in shaping a new direction that engages citizens in a real partnership with their police departments to identify and solve problems at the neighborhood level. This community-oriented policing strategy has been highly effective in reducing crime and raising the level of public safety in cities where the ADG principals have served as chief police executives.

As a training consultant for Strategies for Youth, Inc. (SFY), a Cambridge, MA nonprofit organization devoted to improving police/youth interactions and advancing the cause of training public safety officers in the science of child and youth development and mental health, Mr. Golden has served as a presenter for SFY’s ‘Policing the Teen Brain’ training program in cities across America, including Omaha, NE, Spokane, WA, Santa Ana, CA, San Francisco, CA and Baltimore.

Mr. Golden has worked in law enforcement for more than 40 years, and was appointed Trenton, New Jersey’s first civilian Police Director in 2000. He began his career in the Philadelphia, PA Police Department where he held the ranks of police officer, corporal, sergeant, lieutenant and captain, and served as the department’s Executive Officer from 1992 until his retirement in 1996. In Trenton, he set a new strategic direction for community-based policing, working in a true partnership with citizens to reduce the fear and incidence of crime. He re-engineered the department in a way that enabled police officers and citizens to identify and solve problems at the neighborhood level. This strategy led to a reduction in serious crime throughout the city. Prior to Trenton, he served as the first African-American chief of police for the City of Saginaw, Michigan.

In 2002, Mr. Golden was appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Transportation to serve as the first Federal Security Director at Philadelphia International Airport. In the roll-out of this brand new federal security agency, he hired and led a staff of more than 800 employees, and was directly responsible for a full range of federal aviation security, including passenger and baggage screening, regulatory compliance, and law enforcement.

In 2005, he was appointed to the School District of Philadelphia as the Chief Safety Executive, leading a staff of more than 700 employees who were responsible for creating and sustaining a safe learning environment for 200,000 students and staff. He retired from the School District in 2010.

In 2013-14, Mr. Golden led the Trenton Forward Election Committee as a candidate for Mayor in Trenton’s municipal election. Despite never having run for political office, in a field of six candidates in the non-partisan election, he earned 1,500 of the 10,000 votes cast, missing the runoff election by 600 votes. His extensive background in municipal government, and proven record of achievement in raising the level of public safety in several jurisdictions, including Trenton, were key pillars of his campaign.

Mr. Golden holds a Bachelor of Science degree in management from Philadelphia University and has completed graduate courses in management at the University of Virginia at Quantico. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, the Senior Management Institute for Police at the Police Executive Research Forum and Harvard University, and the Temple University Public Service Management Institute.

Mr. Golden is a life member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), and a member and Past President of the National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE). He currently serves as vice-chairman of the board of trustees for Crime Stoppers of Greater Trenton, and is a former member of the Human Rights Committee of SERV Behavioral Health System, Inc. in Ewing, NJ, and a former member of Princeton Community Church where he previously served on the PCC Leadership Team.

Mr. Golden and his wife, Victoria, are natives of Philadelphia, PA, and have recently relocated to central Delaware. They have three daughters, two sons-in-law, and five grandchildren.
